

AMBER

Birthdate:
December 1994

Amber is looking for a family who will accept her into their home and give her the support and love that she needs and deserves.

Amber is an outgoing and talkative young woman. She is thoughtful and polite and likes to be active. She is a typical teenager in that she enjoys shopping, music and doing her hair and makeup. Amber generally makes friends easily and likes to spend time with them, but needs supervision. She has recently expressed interest in taking boxing lessons.

Amber is able to advocate for herself but at times can be quick to react and not think about the consequences to her actions. Although she has learned and practiced techniques to reduce the frequency of her outbursts she still struggles at times with controlling her emotions

Amber is in high school and recently has struggled with her academics. She will be assessed in the fall to see if she requires any additional educational services. She needs help in staying organized and on track with her academics. She has interest in maybe becoming a lawyer, police officer or joining the Army in her future.

Amber was recently placed in a residential setting to help her address issues of trauma, grief and loss that have resulted in risky behaviors. She has many birth siblings that are placed in various locations, but her primary connection is to one sister. She hopes to maintain that connection and the agency is in support of this relationship at this time.

Amber needs a family that will help her heal wounds from her past and help her move forward to the positive, bright future of which she is capable.
