

Jorge
Birthdate:
April, 1993

Jorge is an energetic young man who can be social, are you the family that he is looking for?

When you first meet Jorge, he may present as a shy young man. However, once he feels comfortable he will warm up to you. Jorge enjoys music, sports, movies and video games.

Jorge is currently in the ninth grade in regular classes and is working at grade level. He is on an IEP to support his learning style in the school setting. Although school is not something Jorge enjoys, he can do well with the right support. Jorge does receive tutoring services to support his school success.

His past experiences have contributed to his mental health diagnoses and some behavior challenges. Jorge is engaging in the therapeutic process with his therapist and psychiatrist and is making progress. He is learning constructive coping mechanisms as well as dealing with issues of grief and loss.

Jorge would do best with a family that can give him their undivided attention. He needs a family with a strong support system and who is nurturing. Jorge would also benefit from a family that can provide structure with some degree of flexibility. Jorge does have a younger sister Glory and would like to have ongoing contact with him.

If you are a family who can help Jorge grow into a healthy and happy adult, then I look forward to hearing from you.

We are also seeking a forever family for Jorge's sister Glory so, if you are a family that would have an interested in both Jorge and Glory please contact me.

Because no one should grow up alone. For more information, contact:
