

Javis
Birthdate:
August, 1992

---

Javis loves fishing, gardening, and playing basketball. He is described as likeable, engaging, a helper, and he has a sense of humor. Javis also enjoys bowling, attending church, and being involved with youth group activities. He wants a family that will support his continued involvement in these various activities.

Javis recently transitioned from residential treatment care into a foster home setting. He has done well with the transition. Javis attends high school and has an IEP (Individualized Educational Plan) that addresses his special educational needs. Although diagnosed with both mental health and behavioral challenges, Javis continues to work on addressing issues in counseling. Javis will need your help with maintaining boundaries and a sense of belonging, as well as learning how to take responsibility for the choices he makes.

Those working with Javis believe that the best family for him is one with no younger children in the home. Javis needs a family that has time to devote to him and willing to advocate for him in all areas. Javis' new family must be willing to work with service providers in order to learn more about him and how to care for his specific needs.

Professionals working with Javis recommend he not have contact with his birth parents, although he is still attached to them. His siblings are placed in the care of other birth family members.

If you are the family that can love and support Javis as he transitions into young adulthood, then I look forward to hearing from you.
